HORRORS OF WAR IN TURKISH CAMP

Where Cholera Kills Many Thousands.

MANURE PILES USED FOR BEDS

And Pitiful Sufferers Denied Attention Commonly Paid to Beasts.

PEN PICTURE OF AWFUL DEATH

Constantinople, Nov. 23.—The half has not been told of the unspeakable scenes of suffering and misery that are enacted daily at the Turkish cholera camp at San Stefano.

Much skepticism has prevailed in Pera, the foreign quarter of Constantinople, both among members of the Diplomatic Corps and foreign residents.

No one there believed the figures given by railroad employees and others in contact with the Turkish army, who declared that many thousands were stricken with cholera. No reliable figures were obtainable from official sources, and in the absence of these reports, were regarded as grossly exaggerated.

The camp is situated at the side of a railway embankment 30 feet in height. A large open space like a village green stretches away for some distance. This is surrounded by better class houses, two or three stories high, built in European style, for San Stefano is the summer resort of many of the more wealthy foreign residents of Constantinople.

Two Ottoman soldiers were standing on guard at the entrance to the camp, but they never made a motion. Their duty was to prevent those within the cordon from escaping and not to hinder other people from entering.

A nauseating picture was witnessed at the side of the railroad. The bodies which had been thrown from trains lay as they had fallen. Some had stuck on top of the embankment; others had rolled part of the way down, and some had reached the bottom. Some of the corpses lay stiffly alone. Others were in groups of three or four.

Around a one-story stable at the foot of the embankment was a group of 60 dead and dying, lying close together, apparently for warmth, on the slopes of a manure pile, which the sick men had found softer than the hard ground.

One man on top of the pile was digging with his fingers a trough, in which to lie. The trough soon became his grave.

As the visitors came near, one victim attempted to crawl across the road to the crowded manure heap, but failed and fell in the roadway. Others lying around raised their heads and cried in the hearing of the attendants that they were given no bread or water.

When half way across the fields the visitors passed dead and dying men, sometimes at intervals of a yard, sometimes from 20 to 30 yards apart.

A group of tents stood in the center, where four or five Turkish soldiers wearing the arm piece of the Red Crescent, stood on guard. Inside the sick and dead lay in groups. The doctor on duty counted twenty-two patients in one tent, while double that number lay just outside, sheltered from the wind to leeward of the canvas.

Some of the stricken men found difficulty in getting into the Moslem position for prayer, looking toward the East. One praying victim was so weak that he could not replace his blanket around his head when the wind blew it off.

The Red Crescent attendants made no attempt to assist any of these suffering soldiers, not even placing stones, which were plentiful, under their heads to permit them to lie easier. A number of these attendants gathered around to watch while the visitors were inspecting the camp.

A water tank drawn by a donkey passed along the road. Those of the victims who were able to rise to their feet went unassisted toward it and struggled feebly for a drink. Those unable to arise got none.

In a similar way what appeared to be bread was distributed to those able to reach the place of distribution.

Several of the sick men raised themselves with difficulty and stumbled toward a well, from which they tried to dip water with their long sashes, wetting the ends and moistening their parched mouths with them.

There were hundreds of dead and thousands of sick in this camp, many of them lying on the ground, and great numbers supporting their backs against the houses bordering the open fields, most of which are deserted.

The comparatively few Turkish soldiers brought to the hospitals, barracks and mosques at Constantinople are more fortunate, although most of them die after reaching their destination. Some few of them are given beds to lie in and water to drink.

San Stefano is not the worst cholera camp. That at Hademkeul, near the Tchatalja lines, is still more extensive. How many patients are there is not known, but it is certain there are thousands, and most of these Anatolians come from Asia Minor to fight for the defense of the Ottoman capital.

POSTMASTER PRIMARY ARRANGED FOR MARION

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 25.—A post-office primary will be held at Marion, Crittenden county's capital, January 18 next, and United States Senator-elect Ollie M. James, who lives in the town, has agreed to endorse the winner. This will guarantee the appointment, as the job is among the numerous political plums which under the incoming Democratic administration the First District leader will distribute. Talk of primaries of this sort is being heard all over the country, but the one at Marion is said to be the first for which all plans have been made. It will be held in the courthouse yard and former Senator P. S. Maxwell, J. I. Clement, G. N. Cruse and Anthony Murphy will be officers of the election, which will be by secret ballot. All Democrats will be permitted to vote. John W. Wilson, G. C. Gray and M. Esker are announced candidates, and it is expected that there will be several others.

CHIEF OF ALLEN GANG GETS FIFTEEN YEARS

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 23.—Sidna Allen, leader of the clan which shot up the Carroll county court at Hillsville last March, resulting in the death of five persons, was found guilty of murder in the second degree to-day for the killing of Judge Thornton L. Massie. The jury fixed the penalty at fifteen years in the penitentiary.

The jury deliberated twenty hours before reporting its verdict. Wesley Edwards, nephew of the clan leader, who was captured with him at Des Moines, September 14, remains to be tried. The trial that ended with the conviction of Allen began November 11, after the first jury summoned had been dismissed by Judge Staples because a juror had discussed the case outside the jury room.

REPUBLICANS BENT ON HAVING A STATE ORGAN

The Owensboro Messenger says: Hon. E. T. Franks, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, stated Thursday that he is meeting with a great amount of encouragement in the effort that is being made by the committee and by the Republican leaders throughout the State, to secure for Louisville a Republican newspaper.

He stated that from one end of the State to the other, the project is meeting with favor and it is expected that within a short time a meeting of the State Central Committee will be called for the purpose of going more into the detail and seeing what can be done in the matter.

Victim of Mistake.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Nov. 21.—A telephone message from Menifee county states that John H. Hatton, one of the best known men in that county, died from the effects of morphine, given by accident. Hatton had been ill, and thinking that he was being given a dose of quinine, his aged wife accidentally made a mistake and administered morphine, resulting in his death in a few hours. He was seventy-five years old.

GREAT POWERS GET INTO FIGHT

To Begin Titanic Struggle for Supremacy.

EUROPE NOW AN ARMED CAMP

War Cloud, Ominous In Its Possibilities, Suddenly Appears in East.

THE SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

London, Nov. 25.—A new war cloud, more dreadfully ominous in its possibilities than the one now hanging lightly on the final efforts of two spent forces, has suddenly reared itself over Europe, out of a maze of diplomatic banterings and jealousies.

Austria, Germany and Russia are calling their men to the colors. Serbia's scarred army is in the field, and with it and supporting it are the victorious legions of the Bulgars, the Greeks and the Montenegrins.

The Austrian Danube flotilla—two monitors, two torpedo boats and four gunboats—are rushing down the Danube to Belgrade under full steam. The dispatch of these vessels is shrouded in secrecy so far as official explanations are concerned, but their mission is plainly a hostile one.

Austria to-night has 400,000 troops on a war footing; 300,000 of them are massed on the Serbian frontier. Reservists are reporting for duty at every military post in the country.

To the Austrian frontier are rushing thousands of Russian troops as fast as they can be mobilized. The official Reichpost of Vienna estimates that by Thursday the Czar will have centralized a great army of 1,200,000 men.

It is announced from Vienna that 150,000 reserves have been called out.

The departure of the flotilla is reported as creating a tremendous sensation in Budapest. Its effect in London diplomatic circles is no less pronounced to-night.

The newspapers of Budapest have been forbidden, under the threat of heaviest penalties, to publish anything concerning military or naval movements.

All the employees of the street railway system of Budapest have been ordered to report to their regiment commanders to-morrow.

The Berlin Press, maintaining a calm but strained editorial countenance, prints columns of news about the war preparations.

The Bourses of Europe were quick to reflect the international unrest to-day. Issues declined on all the important exchanges.

In the meantime Albania, the bone of contention in the imbroglio, has proclaimed her independence. This, in reality, is a proclamation by Austria, and it means that Serbia's efforts to secure for herself a "widow" on the Adriatic have been thwarted by a daring diplomatic ruse.

Independent Albania, thus created without the consent of Serbia, means Austrian control, shared with Italy. The Austrian press accuses Russia of being behind Serbia and of being responsible for the present situation.

A report to the Daily Mail from Vienna to-night says: "It is reported to-night that the Don Cossacks have been mobilized and that the Russian authorities are holding all available rolling stock on the lines running to the Austrian border."

The Berlin Tageblatt correspondent says that the situation is "the gravest possible and war must be reckoned with. Everything depends on Russia. We will not attack, but must prepare for eventualities."

The semi-official Berlin Lokal Anzeiger declares itself no longer able to reconcile official assurances with "such extensive military operations."

Austria, Italy and Germany will immediately recognize the independence of Albania. Thus the challenge will be hurled at Russia and those or all of her allies who propose to stand by them in the crisis.

SCHRANK INSANE, PHYSICIANS SAY

Not Capable of Conferring With Counsel.

IS COMMITTED TO AN ASYLUM

Crazy and Positive Ideas of the Would-Be Assassin Of Roosevelt.

THIRD TERM HALLUCINATION

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 23.—John Schrank, who shot Colonel Roosevelt here, last October, late this afternoon was committed to the Northern hospital for the insane near Oshkosh, until cured, following the unanimous decision of the commission, appointed to inquire into his sanity, that he is insane.

The conclusions reached by the commission are as follows:

First—John Schrank is suffering from insane delusions, grandiose in character and of a systematized variety.

"Second—In our opinion he is insane at the present time.

"Third—On account of the connection existing between his delusions and the act with which he stands charged, we are of the opinion he is unable to confer intelligently with counsel on the conduct of his defense.

"Richard Dewey, M. D., chairman; W. E. Becker, M. D.; D. W. Harrington, M. D.; Frank Sturley, M. D.; William F. Wegge, M. D., commissioners."

Schrank was conducted from the county jail to the City Hall by a strong guard, but without being handcuffed. The prisoner was pale, although he appeared not to be excited. He listened intently to the report of the alienists, which was read by the chairman, Dr. Richard Dewey.

The commission's report consists of several thousand words, and starts out with setting forth personal and family history of the defendant. Other portions of the report bear upon the present physical state of the prisoner, neurological data and winds up with many exhibits, consisting of numerous written communications of the defendant.

The report also contains a lengthy statement made to Chief of Police Janssen on the day following Schrank's arrest.

The concluding portion of the commission's report consists of a lengthy address by Schrank to the commissioners, in which he apologized for causing unpleasantness in asking them to pass a verdict in a matter which should have been better tried by a higher than earthly court.

"He then goes on to review his delusions, in which he claims to have looked into the dying eyes of the late President McKinley, 'when a voice called to me to avenge his death. I was confident that my life was coming soon to an end, and I was at once happy to know that my real mission on this earth was to die for my country and the cause of Republicans.' Continuing, he says:

"The shot at Milwaukee which created an echo in all parts of the world was not a shot fired at the Citizen Roosevelt, not a shot at an ex-President, not a shot at the candidate of a so-called Progressive party, not a shot to influence the pending election, not a shot to gain for me notoriety; no, it was simply to once and forever establish the fact that he who hereafter aspires to a third Presidential term will do so at the risk of his life. If I cannot defend the country in case of war, you may as well send every patriot to prison."

"I hope that the shot at Milwaukee has awakened patriotism of the American nation; that it opened their eyes to the real danger and showed them the only safe way out of it, as provided by the election returns in the great Democratic party. The North, South, East and West are once and more solidly united and proudly can we prove to the nations of the world that the spirit of 1776 is still alive and shall never die, and that self-government is an established fact and a success.

"I have been accused of having selected a State where capital punishment is abolished. I would say I did not know the laws of any State I traveled through, and it would be ridiculous for me to fear death after the act, as I expected to die during the act and not live to tell the story. If I knew that my death would have made the third-term tradition more sacred, I am sorry I could not die for my country."

"Prison for me is like going to war. Before me is the spirit of George Washington; behind me that of McKinley."

PAYS FOR HIS GOODS WITH POSTAGE STAMPS

The Owensboro Messenger says: Deputy United States Marshal C. T. Nichols has returned from a trip to Christian county, where he arrested Joseph T. Davis, former postmaster at East, Christian county, charged with illegally using postage stamps to pay for merchandise and also with making false returns of cancellations to increase his compensation.

The information on which the warrant, which was issued by Commissioner Alvan Clark, was based, was furnished by T. M. Milligan and W. A. Cueman, both inspectors of the Cincinnati division. The man was released under $1,000 bond to appear before the Federal grand jury when it convenes in December.

It is stated that the practice of making false returns as to cancellations is experienced rather frequently in the fourth-class offices.

BUSY BEES TO ENDOW A DELAWARE CHURCH

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 24.—St. James Episcopal Church, near here, will be endowed by sales of honey received from beneath its weatherboarding. The church is not of the landmarks of the new world, being 198 years old. For generations bees have made their home in the eaves of the historic edifice. To-day enough honey was found to feed a town, the accumulation of many years. To-morrow the big supply will be sold at a church sale and the proceeds applied toward endowing the church. The affair is unprecedented in Delaware.

Rev. John Emory Parks, the rector, to-day declared himself as being enthusiastically in favor of re-establishing hives in the weatherboarding of the church for the bees.

"The church will be made self-supporting," he said. "If we can keep the busy bees at work. To-morrow we will realize a large sum from the honey that has been accumulating for years. I shall urge the vestry to do everything within their power to keep the bees here." The plan of the clergyman, who recently came to the charge, will be followed out.

WHAT WOULD BE ALARM FOR TWINS OR TRIPLETS?

Johnstown, Penn., Nov. 24.—The entire local Fire Department was called to quarters at 3 o'clock this morning when a general alarm was turned in from Engine Company No. 3 by Assistant Chief William Haines.

Haines was awakened at that hour by a messenger from his home, who notified him that the first born had arrived at his home, and that it was a bouncing boy.

In the exuberance of his spirits Haines became excited, and, desiring to wake up his comrades of No. 3 Engine Company, he turned in an alarm.

Not until it was too late did he realize that he had sent in a general alarm, but by the time a big portion of the members of the department had finished congratulating him, Haines declared he would never again turn in an alarm for a birth at his home.

A Good Meeting.

Beaver Dam, Ky., Nov. 22, 1912. I have just closed a good meeting at Midland, Ky., which resulted in 27 professions of religion and 28 additions, 23 of whom were baptized. Overflowing house every night and large day congregations. The meeting continued 10 days, conducted by the pastor, J. N. Jarnagin.

In three meetings of 10 days each we have had 51 additions.

PREPARING TO HOLD TOBACCO

Pooled By the Green River Organization.

GROWERS ARE STANDING FIRM

It Looks Now Like There Would Be No Sale of Weed Soon.

WHAT PRESIDENT RINEY SAYS

Following a two days' session, the Board of Control of the Green River Tobacco Growers' Association took adjournment at Owensboro Wednesday afternoon, without having taken any action in regard to the sale of this year's pool other than to announce that they are determined to secure the prices that they have placed on the tobacco and that they will never favor a sale for a lower figure.

Following the session and at the direction of the board, President Riney issued a statement which gives rise to the belief that the board thinks there is little chance for a sale in the near future and advising the farmers to handle their tobacco with care, in order that it may be held by them without any deterioration in quality and without any harm being done to the weed.

The buyers say that the crop of tobacco this year is inferior and that it will not average up to the sample and prices that the association has fixed and that they therefore will not pay the prices that are asked. The growers, through the board of control, say that they must receive the prices they ask, to make a legitimate profit on their crop, that the tobacco is worth the money they ask and that they cannot and will not sell it for less.

From present indications it looks as though the farmers are settling down to a waiting game, and they state that they will hold their tobacco indefinitely before selling at prices lower than those they have fixed. The following is the statement that was issued by President Riney:

The Board of Control of the Green River Tobacco Association met some ten days ago and made a line of samples, with prices ranging from $10 to $6 and $3 for the trash, and left them in the hands of the president and secretary to exhibit to the trade.

The board reassembled Tuesday for the purpose of hearing a report as to the opinion of the trade in regard to samples and the prices.

There being no disposition on the part of the trade to do business on the prices fixed by the board, the board after a two days' session, adjourned, instructing the president to call them together when the trade showed a disposition to pay the price fixed by the association.

The board feels that the price is very reasonable and urges the poolers not to strip their tobacco till they are certain that it is thoroughly cured and will keep in the barns for some time without being hurt.

MR. BRYAN NOT "IN" ON MR. WILSON'S CABINET

Waycross, Ga., Nov. 23.—"I have not conferred with Mr. Wilson since the election and have never discussed with him at any time any person in connection with any office and I have no intention of going to Bermuda."

This answer was made last night by William J. Bryan in reply to reports current that he proposed to visit the President-elect in connection with a cabinet appointment.

"The public knows that Gov. Wilson has gone to Bermuda to rest and that he is not selecting a cabinet," Col. Bryan added. "They ought to let him do the selecting and not spend their time in guessing. If they do guess, I see no reason why I should spend my time in discussing their guesses."

Col. Bryan, accompanied by his wife, is en route to Miami, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

A new nickel will soon be put out with an Indian head on the side and a buffalo on the other.

KENTUCKY MAY HOLD THE BAG

Alleged Discrepancy of Commissioner Bell

IS REPORTED OVER $20,000

Accused Says He is Not Responsible, But Will Fix the Blame.

GOODPASTER'S INVESTIGATION

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 21.—The total amount of money due the State from Chas. W. Bell, Insurance Commissioner, during the last administration is $20,730.77.

This report was made to Governor McCreary to-day by State Inspector and Examiner Sherman Goodpaster. There is due the State on account of fees $15,311.28 and on account of the 2 per cent tax $5,419.49. Contrary to the statute Mr. Bell, who was appointed by Auditor Frank P. James, gave bond direct to Auditor James, his surety being at first the United Surety Company of Baltimore, Md. This bond was in existence until some time in the year 1910, when the company went into the hands of a receiver, and for the remainder of the year Mr. Bell was under no bond.

In 1911 Mr. Bell gave as his surety the Georgia Life Company, but from January 1, 1912, to March 21, 1912, he was under no bond, as the bond of the Georgia Life Insurance Company expired. Under the circumstances it is doubtful if the State can collect from the bond any money due, except during the year of 1911.

In an interview to-night Mr. Bell asks the people of Kentucky to suspend judgment on him following the sensational report of his delinquency as Commissioner, made to Governor McCreary to-day by Sherman Goodpaster, State Inspector and Examiner.

"I am not responsible in the least for the $20,730.77 delinquency," said Bell. "A statement will be made by me as soon as I can prepare it after I have read the report of Mr. Goodpaster. I will fix the blame. It will break my heart to do it, but I cannot rest under so grave a charge, as I am innocent."

It is said that Bell will place the blame on a subordinate, but at present he will not disclose the name. Fast living, the cards and the ponies are said to be the cause of the downfall of the subordinate.

The investigation made by Goodpaster covers a period of four years and three months, and he says the record books of the fees were miserably kept, and that they showed carelessness and disregard of both legal and moral responsibility that is appalling.

The ledger of Mr. Bell's predecessor, H. R. Prewitt, from January 6, 1908, to July 1, 1909, was used after Mr. Bell went into office, and no footings were made or balances brought down to separate the two administrations.

A new ledger was opened by Mr. Bell July 1, 1909, but no balances, of which there were a number, were carried from the old ledger to the new.

Goodpaster found that the month of June, 1909, both on the journal and the cash book never was posted on the ledger.

He had to rely wholly on stub books to secure the amount of money chargeable on account of licenses issued, paid vouchers, to secure the amount on account of examination fees, a list of the authorized companies to secure the amounts on accounts of statements and additional statements and certificates of compliance, as no credence could be placed in the incomplete book records of them.

In this connection Goodpaster says that there is a book of stubs of credit slips issued that cannot be found, and will probably amount to $500, and if this book is found the amount due the State from Bell should be credited with it.

Goodpaster says that all the fees of the office are chargeable to the Insurance Commissioner, and his failure to collect them make him responsible for them to the same extent as if he had collected them.

The investigation did not reveal whether the amounts were collected and not reported to the Auditor by the Insurance Commissioner, or whether they are still due. As it would be necessary to make up the accounts of each individual insurance company and send them a statement before any definite conclusion could be reached, it would require at least six months to do this work.

Goodpaster goes further in explaining to the Governor the duties of the Insurance Commissioner, saying that he is clothed with ample power and authority, and his failure to collect legal fees should not result in a loss to the State.

As for the two per cent, or one-third of one per cent, tax due on the premiums, Goodpaster says that no attempt was made to keep a record book, and in the absence of any book, the tax returns of the insurance companies were used, and when no tax return was found, the amount was calculated from the annual statement made by the company and filed in the office.

The most severe criticism in his report is made by Goodpaster in connection with the two per cent tax investigation. He says that he found that the reports of Insurance Commissioner Bell were full of errors, inaccurate and practically worthless as a guide in this investigation; that companies doing business in the State were omitted from the report, and that the amount of taxes to be paid by the companies did not agree with the amounts shown by the tax returns.

TROUBLES WERE FOUND IN SET OF LOADED DICE

Horse Branch Man and Companion Mix Up With An Old Man.

The Louisville Times of Wednesday says:

Mike Noonan, an old man employed as fireman at the railroad engine house, about 100 yards west of the Seventh-street Union Station, is in a precarious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital and two young laborers in a bridge gang are in jail because one of the youngsters bought a pair of loaded dice early to-day and won some money with them.

Noonan's skull probably is fractured and he will be operated on to-day. He was not able to talk and the only story of the assault was given by Chester Foster and Frank Crane, the two laborers.

Foster lives on a farm near Horse Branch and he came to Louisville Sunday with a number of other men to work in a bridge gang. He rented a room at Crane's home, 1835 Tyler avenue, and the two men borrowed enough money last night to get drunk. About 1 o'clock the stores closed in the neighborhood of Seventh street, they said.

They met a man, told him their troubles and he told them he had a pair of dice. So the three traveled together. They went to the engine house to get drinking water and soon started a game of dice with Noonan. The fireman lost all his money in a few minutes. Foster said they quarreled and Noonan struck him twice with a poker. To prove it, he showed a gash over his left eye and a welt on his back. He took the poker from Noonan and struck him on the head. An hour later he and Crane were arrested at Crane's home. Foster being charged with malicious assault with intent to kill and Crane getting off on a charge of drunkenness.

The more interesting character escaped arrest. The case will not be tried until more is learned of Noonan's condition. He lives at 628 South Seventeenth street, and formerly was employed as baggage-man at the Seventh-street station.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

A Serious Lack.
An old Englishwoman, who was extremely stout, was making vain efforts to enter the rear door of an omnibus. The amused driver leaned over good-naturedly and said in a confidential tone:

"Try sideways, mother; try sideways!"

The old woman looked up breathlessly and replied:

"Why, bless ye, James, I ain't got no sideways."—[Youth's Companion.]

A TOT RESCUED FROM INDIANS

Returns After 50 Years'
Separation

TO GREET OLD-TIME FRIEND

Reunion Was Touching When Adopted Son Recalled a Western Tragedy.

A ROMANTIC BUT TRUE STORY

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: Fifty years ago Colonel Guido Ilges, now weighmaster of the Sixth avenue market and for many years connected with local German newspapers, was a soldier in Arizona. One day it fell a part of his duties to rescue a small boy from the Apache Indians. Later he adopted the boy until the boy's uncle was found in Germany, where Colonel Ilges took him.

Yet today a tall man, of distinctly military bearing, knocked at the door of Colonel Ilges's home, 1211 Clay street. The stranger proved to be the man who had been rescued when a boy by Colonel Ilges and his name is Ernest Amelung, now employed as interpreter in the War Department of the United States.

Both men lived over again the frontier days. This is the way Colonel Ilges told the story as he sat close to his visitor and occasionally wiped away an involuntary tear:

"While stationed at Camp Grant, Arizona Territory, in 1865, as Lieutenant and Captain of the Thirty-second Infantry, a party composed of Otto Amelung, his wife and three infant children, together with a number of Mexicans, was surprised on the way to our fort by Apache Indians and all of the party killed with the exception of the two Amelung boys, who were carried away to the mountains by the Indians."

"All the machinery of the Government was set in motion when two years later it was learned that one of the boys still was held as captive, the other having frozen to death during the preceding winter. We could reach no agreement with the Apaches for Amelung's release until finally an Apache girl was stolen by the Prima Indians. An Apache chieftain came to our fort and offered to give us the white boy if we could return the Apache girl or secure her liberty from the Prima."

"We bought her liberty for $30 and sent word that we would be ready to effect the trade the next afternoon. Never will I forget the two or three hundred Apaches as they rode up near our fort with the white boy in front of their leaders. A detachment of men followed me, leading the Apache girl, and the trade was made."

"Little Ernest was such a cute boy that he became a favorite at the post. I adopted him and sent him to San Francisco to live with an aunt of mine until I could locate his relatives. After several years I found that he had an uncle near Frankfurt, Germany, and I took him over there."

"Ernest was educated in Germany, but at the age of 22 he wanted to come back to America. He located in San Antonio in 1882 and later moved to Houston, where he took the civil service examination and was given a place in the Navy Department. All of the time he was looking for me, wondering where his old foster dad could be found."

"Since that time he has been transferred to the War Department and while going through some musty old records a week or so ago, found that I had gone to Cincinnati. Last week he was called to Chicago, and in returning came through Cincinnati to look me up and he found me sure."

Here Colonel Ilges embraced Amelung as he would a son.

The December Woman's Home Companion.

The December Woman's Home Companion contains a remarkable account of the birth of Christ, written by Washington Gladden. It is a simple, straight narrative—interesting and full of an extraordinary sense of wonder. Reading it is like reading about Lincoln or any other great real figure in history.

In the same number there is an intimate personal account of the little Princess Mary, who is the only daughter of the King and Queen of England. Princess Mary is fifteen years old and has five brothers. The photographs that accompany the article make an unusual feature.

The magazine contains six or eight special contributions that have to do with Christmas—particularly articles showing how to make various kinds of Christmas presents. The fiction is especially adapted to a Christmas number, and a special point is made of the art features. Many of the illustrations are in color.

The regular departments devoted to dressmaking, cookery, and the household, are filled with good reading and suggestions of money value to those who will take them up and make use of them.

Says The Cynic.
In the December American Magazine the cynic says:

"Quite a number of rich wives seem to be located at points where they are most needed."

"A genius is one who appears to do a thing practically as well as you could do it yourself."

"A man paid me yesterday ten dollars that have been owing me for eleven years. Bread seldom floats that long."

SAYS A BOILED ONION IS GREATEST PROTECTOR

Against Disease Germs—Hetty
Green Doesn't Know What She's Worth.

New York, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Hetty Green, probably the world's richest woman, will celebrate her seventy-eighth birthday anniversary tomorrow. She said to-day that the "celebration" will consist of her going to her desk in the Broadway office of the Westminister Company, the headquarters of the Green estate, at the usual hour, 9 o'clock, and remaining there hard at work until 5 or 6 o'clock.

Then she will return to the home of her hostess, Countess Leary, 1020 Fifth avenue, where she will continue as a guest until the little flat she gave up in Hoboken after the marriage of her daughter three years ago shall be ready for her occupancy again.

Mrs. Green was nibbling at a boiled onion while she talked to reporters.

"I always have a boiled onion with me," she said in explanation of her unusual dietetic indulgence, "and I always chew on one when I am hungry. It is the greatest protection in the world against disease germs. I have been doing this 20 years, and as a result I have not had a sore throat in that time. All women should do the same thing, and they would, too, if it were not for their vanity."

Mrs. Green said she could not state the amount of her fortune—"unless I should tell a lie," she added, with vigor. "I may be worth $25,000,000 or I may be worth $200,000,000. I would have to guess. But early next year my son Ned and I are going to take an inventory of all we own. Then we will know definitely the value of our estate."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

IF ALL WOULD SPEND
ALL—A SUPPOSITION

"Spend all you have. It is foolish to scrimp and save," says Prof. Patton, of the University of Pennsylvania. "Men and women should spend their earnings."

Not a bad idea if everybody played fair. If each and every one of us spent his money as fast as he earned it, we could all bathe in an endless flowing stream of rippling currency—like sunshine and babbling brooks. Hard times and "stringencies" would be as rare as blue rain drops. We should all be busy and happy. There would be

Many a Hartford Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

If your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; If urinary troubles set in, Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Don't delay—use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is good evidence of their worth:

Mrs. W. N. Bartlett, 620 Triplet St., Owensboro, Ky., says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and cannot say too much in their praise. For a long time I had nearly every symptom of kidney disease. My back ached terribly and at night I did not sleep well. During the day I was nervous and in bed all the time. My feet became swollen and I knew I required a good remedy to cure me. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, so I procured a supply and began taking them as directed. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and they are the only remedy I will ever use for kidney trouble. I can highly recommend them, as they lived up to the claims made for them."

HOW THEY DODGE THE LIQUOR LAW

Out in the Hustling State Of Kansas.

CLEVER AND ARTFUL SCHEMES

Are Expeditiously Worked By the Thirsty of Sunflower State.

JUST A FEW SAMPLE CASES

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the Mongolian has nothing on the Kansas jointist. Fearful and wonderful are some of the schemes invoked to evade the laws.

John Dawson, Attorney General of Kansas, is the chief law-enforcing officer. He has to keep tab on the law enforcement work in 105 counties, and it keeps him and an assistant pretty busy doing it. The other day Dawson was checking over his joint cases of the last year to see what disposition had been made of those finally tried in the courts and what steps should be taken to get the other cases ready for trial. In this list there were 700 liquor cases out of 1,000 cases handled by the Attorney General during the last year. Here are some of the smart tricks turned by jointists and bootleggers in Kansas in the last year to evade the prohibitory law, as shown by official records:

At Wichita, a jointist had a special suit of clothes made with sixty pockets, each pocket holding a half pint of whiskey. He was a walking dram-shop. When loaded, he appeared like a very large man. When he had sold out, he was a small man and his clothes hung in wrinkles. A policeman saw him drinking and held him for investigation.

At Wichita a bootlegger had sixteen regular customers and a dog. It was only a little curly-haired spaniel, but the bootlegger took him to all his customers one day. The next day the dog started out with a bottle of whiskey in his mouth. He visited each customer. Those who desired took a drink and the dog went to the next. Each week the bootlegger collected from each customer.

In Topeka, a negro extended a water pipe into the attic of his house and connected it with a keg of beer, and was in business five months before the police could find out how he sold the beer.

In Iola a man peddled toothwash on the streets. The wash was cheap whiskey of pink color.

A chap put an advertisement in a paper at Atchison of an auction sale of suit cases and traveling bags. Each bag contained from a pint to four quarts of whiskey and sold rapidly.

A man worked in Topeka, Kansas City, Kan., Atchison, Wichita and Ft. Scott during the fall and hasn't been caught yet. He would walk up to a man on the street and offer to get him a quart of first-class liquor for two dollars. He had a large package under his arm, and if the citizen wanted the liquor, the package was left with the purchaser while the bootlegger went around the corner to get the liquor. He never came back, and after twice the allotted time, the citizen would decide that he had been "stung" for two dollars. Then he would examine the package and find there the quart of whiskey he had purchased.

Some of the schemes to evade the law were bolder. Chief among these was the drugless drugstore, which flourished before the days of an awakened official conscience. There were many of these drug stores in Topeka. To all appearance they were drug stores—the windows were filled with drug advertisements and the shelves carried the same rows of bottles found in other drug stores. Usually the bottles were dummies filled with chalk or flour, or colored water. Behind it all, usually separated by a partition, was a fully equipped bar. Ordinarily it was impossible to purchase a drug of such common use as quinine in one of these counterfeit pharmacies.

For a long time a joint keeper in Leavenworth puzzled the officers. Many raids which were made failed to disclose the source of the supply. Finally when one of the raids was made the attention of the officers was attracted to a safe. The suspect was asked to open. He refused. The safe was blown and found to contain a stock of liquors.

On one occasion, when Leavenworth was extremely "dry," and the law enforcement officers were making it particularly warm for the keepers, a pontoon bridge was constructed across the Missouri river to the town of Stillings, Mo., and nearly a score of saloons were established. But this makeshift was short lived. Law enforcement grew lax again in Leavenworth and, besides, a pontoon bridge is not a satisfactory means of transit for unsteady feet.

Probably the most famous scheme to enable the thirsty to get liquor in Kansas was the M. B. This was a secret order, the Order of the Mystic Brotherhood. Every member was sworn to absolute secrecy, the same as in the fraternal orders. One man in each town was the steward and he bought the liquor and furnished it to the members as they desired. The order flourished for ten or fifteen years before any attempt was made to check it, and then it took five years of hard court work to drive the order out of Kansas. There was an O. M. B. lodge in practically every Kansas town.

The "blind tiger" appeared in various forms in the State. It was always intended that no one should know who dispensed the liquor. If one knew where the tiger was running, he would go up to it, lift a trap door in the wall and place a quarter or whatever the customary price in the town for beer or whiskey, whichever he wanted. The trap door was closed and in a minute the customer would open it and find his money gone, but the beer or whiskey, whichever he had ordered, was in its place.

NOTICE OF RENTAL.

Mary E. Greer, Plaintiff,

vs.

B. F. Greer, &c., Defendants.

Pursuant to an order of the Ohio Circuit Court, entered in Order Book No. 56, page 584, Ohio Circuit Clerk's office, I will on Monday, December 2, 1912, about 1 o'clock p. m. by public outcry, at the court house door in Hartford, rent to the highest and best bidder, on six and twelve months time, in equal installments, what is known as the late Samuel H. Greer homestead, situated in Ohio county, Kentucky, about four miles from Whitesville. The farm contains — acres. Same will be rented for the year 1913. The renter to give possession of same the 1st day of January, 1914. The proceeds of rental to be used for the maintenance of the plaintiff, Mary E. Greer, after the cost of rental is paid. Bond for the rental price with approved security will be required immediately after rental. And to better secure the rental price a lien will also be retained on the crop grown on said premises for the year 1913.

Frenzied Arithmetic.

Three-year-old Amy, who had a very lively little brother, was being put through a lesson in arithmetic by her uncle. She had successfully added one and one, but stuck at two and one.

"Your mama," said her uncle, "has two children. If she had one more, what would that make?"

"Oh," cried Amy, "that would make my mama crazy!"—[December Woman's Home Companion.]

THE DISPOSAL OF DEAD HOGS

In Kentucky and Law Governing Same.

A SEVERE PENALTY PROVIDED

For Failure to Burn the Dead
Carcasses—Burying
Will Not Do.

IS IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Hog cholera is again prevalent over practically the entire State of Kentucky, and we cannot help but feel that this is due largely to carelessness in the disposition of carcasses of hogs dying from cholera. Unless we adopt radical measures, and see that the statutes covering the disposition of carcasses of hogs dying from contagious diseases are enforced, the tremendous losses that we have had for the last two years will continue indefinitely.

We also feel the inability of this department to protect the live stock interests of Kentucky without the hearty co-operation of the stock raiser. This office is notified daily of parties who, through carelessness or ignorance, have violated the law governing the disposition of carcasses. For this reason, we desire to call the attention of the public to the following chapter from the Acts of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, page 234:

CHAPTER 79.

An Act providing for the destruction of the carcasses of swine dying from cholera or other disease. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky,

FIRST: That in all cases where any pig, shoat or hog shall die of the disease commonly called "hog cholera," or any other disease, it shall be the duty of the owner, or owners, of such pig, shoat or hog, or the person or persons having the care or custody of the same, having knowledge of the fact or upon receiving notice thereof, to cause the carcass of the same to be burned within twelve hours, or securely buried two and one-half feet deep.

SECOND: Any person, or persons, failing and refusing to comply with the above provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

Approved by the Governor March 14, 1912.

The burying of hogs that have died of cholera is a dangerous practice and should be discouraged. Virulent outbreaks of hog cholera have developed from carcasses that had been buried for several years; therefore the man who buries cholera hogs on his farm is in constant danger of hog cholera. Burning is greatly to be preferred.

Trusting that we may have your hearty co-operation in the eradication of hog cholera from Kentucky, the Department of Animal Husbandry of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station is always at your command. E. S. GOOD, Head of the Division of Animal Husbandry, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Kentucky.

A TIP FOR WIVES ONLY —A VALUABLE RECIPE

How much we may learn from the Orient with its centuries of tradition, already old and wise when Columbus first planted the seeds of all sorts of trouble by discovering America! Here, for example, is a gem of science that reaches us from Morocco and that tells us how wives may compel their husbands to retrace the footsteps that even in the home of the brave will sometimes wander from the straight and narrow path of conjugal felicity.

As soon as the wife has received the Pinkerton report that tells the old, old story of who he was with last night, let her draw a straight line in pure honey down from the middle of her forehead to her chin and collect the drippings in a spoon. Let her then rub the tip of her tongue with a fig-leaf till it bleeds and soak seven grains of salt in the blood. Mix it all up together with the honey, add some more salt which has been carried for a day and a night in a tiny incision in the skin between her eyebrows. To this must be added a pinch of earth from the print of her bare right foot on the ground, and the whole dose should then be put into the erring husband's breakfast food when he isn't looking. The charm of the thing is its harmlessness and its simplicity. Like infant baptism, it cannot possibly do any harm, and it might do good. And the women of Morocco say it never fails, and they ought to know.—[The Argonaut.]

The December American Magazine. The December American Magazine marks an important epoch in the history of periodical making. With this number The American goes to a new size—8 1/2 inches by 12. This permits of three columns of reading matter to the page, much larger and more beautiful illustrations, a book practically as thick as the old standard sized magazine and a greatly improved physical appearance all round. Of the ninety-two illustrations in the number, twenty-four are in color.

David Grayson, F. P. Dunne, Helen Keller, Ida M. Tarbell, Ed. Howe, James Montgomery Flagg, Emerson Hough, and Oliver Herford are among the notable contributors of articles to this first number of the new sized magazine.

On the side of fiction, Arnold Bennett leads the way with the first chapter of a new serial entitled "The Regent"—a theatrical story, lively and stirring. Other stories are by Harris Merton Lyon, Frank Barkley Copley, Henry Oyen, Welford Beaton, Mary Brecht Pulver and Ralph Straus.

The principal departments, "Interesting People," "The Theater" and the "Interpreter's House," are full of good reading.

"It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine I have ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell, of Lavonia, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

Stone Cannon Ball. In the river Tweed, near Norham castle, England, has been discovered a stone cannon ball eighteen inches in diameter and weighing two hundred-weight. FRAIL SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—
Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous and have so little appetite. For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter, ever since her birth, had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers, combined with the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol.

Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people and the weak, run-down and debilitated. We return the money in every case where it fails.

My Doctor Said

"Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. I got able to be up and help do my housework. I continued to take the medicine, and now I am able to do my housework and to care for my children, and I feel as though I could never praise Cardui enough for the benefits I have received."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is successful, because it is made especially for women, and acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That explains the great success which it has had, during the past 50 years, in helping thousands of weak and ailing women back to health and happiness.

If you are a woman, feel tired, dull, and are nervous, cross and irritable, it's because you need a tonic. Why not try Cardui? Cardui builds, strengthens, restores, and acts in every way as a special, tonic remedy for women. Test it for yourself. Your druggist sells Cardui. Ask him.

BABY'S CARE IS MOTHER'S WORRY

SCOTT'S EMULSION improves the quality of breast milk—it supplies the material for bone and muscle—if scanty or thin, it makes it rich and abundant.

For bottle babies a few drops of emulsion with every feeding produces marvelous effects—makes new, firm flesh and ruddy health.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is the cream of the purest cod liver oil delicately emulsified into tiny particles resembling maternal milk and each particle is coated with glycerine—no alcohol or stimulant—a wholesome, nourishing, strength-making food.

Mothers everywhere are enthusiastic about Scott's Emulsion. Insist on getting SCOTT'S.

The "pie prance" is said to be the name of the new political dance.

Chances now are that the Balkan allies will not have Turkey for Thanksgiving.

Let us hope that the hunting season will pass by without any serious accidents. It behooves all hunters to be careful.

Really, will the "busting" of the Bathtub Trust have any effect upon the fellow who hasn't taken a bath since he was a boy and went in swimming?

Democrats have not yet gotten over the effects of "the morning after."
Contrary to the well worn aphorism, it was a most delightful experience.

Nobody has yet succeeded in making a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but it is said that hog breeders have accomplished the art of producing a blue pig.

It seems that a majority of the leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties are in favor of a six-year Presidential term with ineligibility for re-election, but the leaders of the Moose movement (including Teddy, of course) are noncommittal on the subject.

Champ Clark will not have any opposition to his re-election as Speaker of the Lower House of Congress.
This is well, and is as it should be. Mr. Clark has made a splendid record as Speaker and it would be hard to get any other man to so acceptably fill the place.

The Republicans of Kentucky are trying very hard to establish a newspaper organ in Louisville.
They used to have some "weakies" scattered about over the State, but the most of them seem to have committed the unpardonable sin of going into the Bull Moose ranks.

In one respect W. J. Bryan is like unto Moses, of Bible fame.
Moses led the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt and through the wilderness, and gave them a system of law which is the model of our everyday life. But he was not permitted to enter the promised land. Mr. Bryan has had a like experience in a political way. He has entered the "promised land" of Democratic victory, but not as the head of his party. But Mr. Bryan is not an old man. He may yet beat Moses in a certain political way.

"All statements about selections for the cabinet may be disregarded until I make the announcement myself," declares President-elect Wilson.
It seems evident that our new President is going to be a man "of his own mind," which is a splendid qualification for the place to which he has been elected. Anyhow, he will not submit to be dictated to.
If Mr. Wilson as President will only use his best efforts in seeing that all appointments of the Government are made with an eye single to fitness, he will have taken a long stride in the right direction.

The business of the country is plodding along, just the same as if no Presidential election had occurred.
None of the great manufacturing plants of the country have closed their doors, nor have business interests been disturbed, as freely predicted by the opponents of Democracy. All is peaceful and serene and there appear to be no breakers of any kind ahead. It is a good omen and it speaks well for the incoming political party, in which the voters have shown so much confidence. Let us all hope that public conditions will remain so.

As an illustration of what The Herald said last week about the advisability of putting only efficient and capable men in office, might be taken the case of Mr. Chas. W. Bell, Insurance Commissioner during the last State administration. It has not been shown that Mr. Bell was dishonest or that he misappropriated any funds of the State, but that he was simply careless and negligent—two very great faults, however, in official conduct. The State—or rather the taxpayers—may lose a considerable sum by his negligence. Only fit and capable men should be put in places of public trust.

One great duty of all Kentucky parents always stands prominently before them. That is the education of their children. No child should be kept out of school for even a day, only under the most urgent necessity. Education means more now than it ever did in the history of this country. Time was when boys and girls could go out into life with scarcely any education and "get by" all right. It is not so now. The avenues of profitable living are open, as a general proposition, only to those possessing a good education. Parents do their children great injury by failing in this matter.

The shortcomings of public officials is often found in the fact that they were put in positions of trust with little or no consideration of their fitness for the place. Too long it has been the custom of both the leading political parties to reward the main workers in their ranks with offices for which they were poorly fitted. This is a bad policy and deserves correction. It may be true that "to the victor belongs the spoils," and it is also true that valiant and faithful party workers deserve and should have reward, but due discernment should be shown both in the election and appointment of men to office.

MINERS APPEAL TO GOV. MCCREARY

To Relieve Them From a State of Want.

THE PRESENT CAR SHORTAGE

Has Deprived Them of Work —Petition Referred to Commission.

THE SITUATION DEPLORABLE

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 25.—In an appeal to Gov. McCreary, miners of the West Kentucky coal fields declare they are in a state of want, and ask that railroads be required to furnish the mines more cars so that they can work full time. Gov.
McCreary immediately turned the petition over to the State Railroad Commission, and the officials of the Illinois Central and the miners have been informed by the commission that the petition will be considered at a meeting here December 4.

The petition is from McHenry, Ohio county, and the signers say that they represent the miners and their families, numbering about 5,000 souls. They say they have averaged only $10 in wages apiece for the last month, following eighteen months' partial idleness, during which time they have averaged only about twelve days' work each month.

The petition follows:
"We, the representatives of the miners of Ohio county, Kentucky, and their families, to the number of about 5,000, do hereby attempt to set forth the conditions prevailing in this, Ohio county.

"First, the mining business has for many months been very dull, and, consequently, the miners have averaged, approximately, about twelve working days per month for about eighteen months. This is getting worse; gradually we are drifting into a state of want, for up to the present date, viz., November 19, the average earnings of these men are, at some of the mines, as low as $10 for this month. Therefore it is within the bounds of reason that we state that our people are on the verge of suffering.

"Taking into consideration the high cost of the necessities to sustain life; also the cost of rent and coal, we believe that any reasonably informed person will understand that by the long time of slow work, and now almost a shut-down, the people cannot possibly be in any other than very much straitened circumstances, and that these conditions exist in the midst of plenty. Therefore, we, through and by the authority of the people we represent, do hereby try to lay the condition of our people before you,
the Chief Executive of Kentucky.

"We also try to lay before you some of the reasons for this state of affairs. We, as representatives of the people, have appealed to our employers, the operators and owners of the several mines, and in every instance they state to us that they can give us almost steady work if they could get the railroad cars to ship the product of the mines.
They assure us that they can get contracts of sale for a large amount and some of them have contracts, that, if they could get railroad cars,
would give some of the mines work every day. These same mines have only worked something like four days in two weeks. They, the operators, tell us that the people are begging for coal and they cannot furnish it on account of the railroad companies failing to provide cars for the shipment of their coal, thereby depriving both operators and miners of the State of Kentucky of the benefits that it would be possible to enjoy owing to the bountiful crops and the general prosperity of the country.

"Therefore, we do pray that through you, our Chief Executive, there be an investigation by the proper authorities of the State of Kentucky and the Commission of Interstate Commerce, so that we may be able to feed, clothe and shelter our families and educate our children, and that the people of the non-coal-producing communities of Kentucky may be supplied with coal, of which, according to all reports, they are very much in need."

The petition is signed by R. C.
Vance, L. E. Herrell, J. T. Main,
Charles W. Mulliken, G. P. Westfield,
G. W. McFarland and A. T. Davis.

Gov. McCreary replied: "I regret that I have no power, as Governor, to make the necessary investigation you suggest, but I have referred your petition to the Railroad Commission, who have power to grant the relief you need."

RICKETTS.

Nov. 25.—A protracted meeting

NICE PENSION WILL BE GIVEN EX-PRESIDENTS

Or Their Widows—The Carnegie Corporation Provides $25,000 Annually.

New York, Nov. 23.—Future ex-Presidents of the United States are to be pensioned in the sum of $25,000 each annually by action of the Carnegie Corporation of New York to-day. The grant is provided for with the idea of enabling former executives of the nation to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of ex-Presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensioning are to be promptly offered to the ex-Presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required from them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients "remain unprovided for by the Government."

The announcement followed the second annual meeting of the corporation, held at the residence of Andrew Carnegie here and attended by the corporation's eight trustees.

Five of these eight trustees are the heads of the five institutions which Mr. Carnegie has founded—the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Elihu Root, president; the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Henry
S. Pritchett, president; the Carnegie
Institution of Washington, Robert
S. Woodward, president; Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, Pittsburgh, Pa., Charles L. Taylor, president, and the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh, William M. Frew, president. The successors of these five men become ex-officio trustees of the Carnegie Corporation of New York. In addition there are three life trustees—Andrew Carnegie, Robert A. Franks and James Bertram.

HOPEWELL.

KING QUALITY SHOES

FOR OUR MEN have stood the test with our trade for over fifteen years. Our sales have increased every season. The recommendation of King Quality wearers adds new customers every month in the year. There is a reason for all this. Men wouldn't buy the same make of shoes over and over again if they did not wear to their entire satisfaction.

If they were not right up to the minute in style, shape and workmanship, our young men could not be induced to wear them.

In summing up the evidence in this case the impartial judge is compelled to render a verdict that KING QUALITY

MR. SANDERS HONORED BY DRUG ASSOCIATION

At a recent meeting of the National Executive Board of the National Association of Drug Clerks held at Columbus, Ohio, Mr. H. S. Sanders, of the Ohio County Drug Co., of Hartford, was elected Chairman of the local county association of drug clerks.

The membership of the national body now extends into forty-three States with State and county committees in all States, all of which are striving to elevate both the commercial and professional side of their vocation and pursuit. The principal contention of the National Association is that the great laxity of the enforcement of the State Pharmacy laws, wherever so many stores are being conducted illegally with unregistered men, is within itself the prime cause for much of the demoralization of both the profession and vocation.

Much work for betterment and elevation has been taken up by the national body through the State and county organizations. It is striving to obtain representation of the clerks upon the United States Pharmacopoeial committee at Washington, elevation and betterment of the status of the Pharmacists in the United States Government and the appointment of registered Pharmacists in all State institutions where drug departments are maintained. The Association is working hard for a strict observance and rigid enforcement of all laws relative to public health and protection of the profession and vocation.

Mrs. R. D. Barnes Dead.

Mrs. Mary B. Barnes, wife of R. D. Barnes, died at the residence of Mr. R. W. Barnes, of the Goshen neighborhood, last Monday morning at 5:30 o'clock of peritonitis.

After funeral services conducted by her pastor, Rev. T. V. Joiner, the remains were interred in the Alexander cemetery yesterday at 11 o'clock a. m.

The deceased, who was 26 years, 7 months and 16 days old, leaves a husband, three small children, two sons, a daughter, many friends and relatives to mourn her sad demise. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. John T. Ellis.

The bereaved husband has the profoundest sympathy of his many friends, in this his great bereavement.

Created Excitement.

The Louisville Times of Monday afternoon says:

Owen Hart, twenty-four years old, was arrested in Jeffersonville last night and later sent to the hospital at Lakeland after he had been the means of creating a great deal of excitement in the city across the river. Hart was telling people that he had dug a grave on the farm of William Webber, ten miles north of Jeffersonville, and that he was getting ready to cement it. Citizens thought he had killed somebody and then lost his mind. Some of them tried to find the grave. Hart had escaped from Lakeland about four weeks ago. He said he lived at Spring Lick, Ky.

ROSENTHAL'S MURDERERS WILL "GET THEIRS" SOON

Justice Goff to Fix Date For Execution—Informers
To Go Free.

New York, Nov. 21.—Sentence of death on the four gunmen convicted yesterday of murdering Herman Rosenthal will be pronounced by Justice Goff on November 26. He so announced when the prisoners were arraigned before him to-day. After sentence is passed, the men will be taken to Sing Sing, where former Police Lieut. Charles Becker is awaiting death.

The pedigrees of the gunmen were taken to-day at their arraignment. "Whitey" Lewis said his real name was Frank Seidenshue, born in Russia, twenty-four years old, and bookbinder by trade. Both his parents are living, and he has served two jail sentences.

"Dago Frank" gave his correct name as Frank Cirofici, twenty-seven years old, a native of Italy, and a steam fitter by occupation. He has served one jail term, and described himself as a moderate drinker.

"Lefty Louie" said he was christened Louis Rosenberg, was twenty-one years old, a native of Austria, and married. His vocation was salesmanship, he said. He was temperate and had served one jail sentence.

"Gyp the Blood" was recorded as Harry Horowitz, a clerk, twenty-four years old, a native of New York City, married and temperate.

The State's informers, Rose, Vallon, Webber and Schepps, who have been held in prison during the trial, probably will be released this afternoon. The District Attorney agreed to-day that there was no further need of keeping them behind the bars. It is thought they will leave the city.

William Shapiro, driver of the "murder car" and jointly indicted with the gunmen and Becker, also will go free. In return for his testimony for the State, the District Attorney's office will move that the indictment against him be quashed.

Of the seven indicted for the Rosenthal murder, this leaves but one defendant to be tried. He is Jack Sullivan, "King of the News-boys."

Mrs. N. Wedd—Well, how much would you charge to come up here and stuff the turkey we're going to have for Thanksgiving dinner? I myself don't know how.—[Woman's Home Companion.]

THE SIX-CENT EGG IS A PRESENT PROPOSITION

Eggs at six cents apiece, or about the price of a lamb chop, might be taken as illustrating the heights to which the cost of living in New York is mounting. In fact, they serve rather to reveal one of the artificial conditions to which the dearth of food is frequently due. According to the dealers, quantities of perfectly good storage eggs may be obtained at twenty-four cents a dozen, or two cents apiece. But as a result of the law requiring cold-storage eggs to be so designated, the cost of "fancy" eggs fresh from the farm has reached the prohibitive figure.

Give an egg a bad name and suspicion is inevitable. But why should eggs retained in storage for a reasonable time lose in marketable quality merely because unscrupulous dealers have sometimes abused the purpose of cold storage to dispose of spoiled food? Eggs after a month's refrigeration ought to be sweet and fit for consumption, even if not "strictly fresh."

Yet the great disproportion between the price of farm and storage eggs must raise doubt whether the consumer's fastidiousness is wholly responsible. Is it due in some part also to manipulation with a view to discrediting the law under which this anomalous difference of prices has occurred?—[New York World.]

WILLIAM FLYNN HAS
DESERTED THE MOOSERS

Pittsburg, Penn., Nov. 22.—After spending approximately $250,000 carry Pennsylvania for Roosevelt and incidentally to establish himself as boss to succeed Senator Boies Penrose, William Flynn has deserted the Bull Moose and will go back into the Republican party.

This notwithstanding the declaration from Oyster Bay that "the party must live"—the Progressive party of Roosevelt—and that the cause must go forward.

Flynn has decided to devote his efforts to retaining control of the Republican organization that he won away from Penrose.

Whatever may be the ultimate fate of the Bull Moose in this State, it has served Flynn's purpose for the present, and Flynn is preparing to send his Washington party and Roosevelt Progressive party Senators and legislators into the Republican party caucus, prior to the opening of the Assembly at Harrisburg.

This will draw the party lines between Republican and Democrat, as in the past and settles all doubt concerning Flynn's caucus plans. It is said to be part of Flynn's design to weld the new organization together and to clinch his control of the Legislature, so that his legislative program may be carried out.

PREACHER WHIPPED BY BROTHERS OF HIS WIFE

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 22.—Another sensational chapter to the divorce suit of Mrs. Martha Knox against Rev. Maurice E. Knox, a Methodist minister, was added to-day when Judge Moss, of the Circuit Court, canceled the order recently issued allowing Knox to see his child.

When Knox went to his wife's home a few days ago to see the child, trouble arose and he was badly beaten by two brothers of Mrs. Knox.

The brothers were dismissed by the Court after hearing the evidence to-day, which tended to show, the Court held, that they were justified in their action. The wife of the minister swore that her husband had committed cruel and inhuman acts upon her. The woman told her story in dramatic manner.

The record in the divorce suit, which will be submitted to the Court for a decision shortly, will, it is said, teem with sensational allegations against Knox.

ROLLA NEWTON COMES
CLEAR AT HAWESVILLE

Hawesville, Ky., Nov. 22.—Rolla Newton, charged with blowing up the sawmill of L. E. Morris, was acquitted by the jury, which has been hearing the case for the past two days, this afternoon. The case attracted a great amount of interest in Hancock county and was bitterly contested. All of the evidence was circumstantial. When the defendant placed his witnesses on the stand he proved an alibi. Newton was represented by LaVega Clements, of Owensboro, who made a very telling argument to the jury.

Let's Take a Rest.

President-elect Wilson has gone to the Bermudas for a visit.

Let's take a rest from politics, muckraking and calling one another names.

The tariff can't be tinkered till April, 1913, anyway, and the chances are that it will be 1914 before anything is really done.

Mr. Wilson can make up his Cabinet without our help.

So let's enjoy the weather and pumpkin pies and prosperity?

Let's take a rest!

Let's take a rest—[Chicago Inter Ocean.]

Spoke the Truth.

Teacher—Willie, did your father take you for what you did in school yesterday?

Willie—No, ma'am; he said the licking would hurt him more than me.

Teacher—What rot! Your father is too sympathetic.

Willie—No, ma'am, but he's got the rheumatism in both arms.

Even a self-made man may have to depend upon his wife to make him happy.

INTROSPECTION.

The more I think of who I am, and where I am, and what I am,
The more I feel the gods must laugh at what a little spot I am;

An ant, a crawling thing, a tiny moving molecule I am,
And in my most exalted wisdom, what an arrant fool I am!

What finite things to infinite, the dents of Earth to sunspots are—

What time is to eternity, a candle flicker to a star—

So is my little puny soul to that great first Intelligence

That brought me here, and in its time shall turn the glass and send me hence.

What plans I have—what work I do—what mountains I essay to move—

What thoughts I think what arguments—what things I labor so to prove;

What grandeur I may dream, and what as grandeur may delight my eyes

Are tawdry trash—a rubbish heap—my greatest truths are halting lies!

Could I create a singing bird?—a blush or odor for the rose?—

Or add a single glory to the corner where the violet grows?

O you who boast—what is your boast?—What worthy labor have you done

That is not killed by wintry blasts nor withered by an angry sun?

And so, the more I think, I see my true proportions in the glass—
And stand aside uncovered, so to let some winding cottage pass;
And so within my heart I pray for courage in the strife and stress,
And seeking strength I find it—when I look for it—in humbleness.

The Best Family Newspaper.

One of the modern problems that confront the conscientious homemaker is the wise choice of a daily newspaper. The ideal family paper must be clean, free from vulgarity and sensationalism, yet must offer something of interest to every member of the household, besides printing the latest news of the whole world in reliable and attractive form. A large contract, you will say. Yes, but an increasing number of readers seem to be convinced that the Chicago Record-Herald fairly comes up to the specifications. This great daily has made tremendous strides in the last year or two without lowering its standards one iota.

Business and professional men have long regarded the Record-Herald as the best paper for their own reading, because of its splendid news service and the reliability of its financial, agricultural and market reports. Young men perhaps find its greatest attraction in its excellent sporting department, covering the whole range of the world's sports. Wives and mothers emphatically prefer the Record-Herald on account of its feminine departments—its daily recipes and menus, its daily fashion hints, the People's Institute of Domestic Economy and the many good things in the illustrated Woman's Section in the Sunday paper. Children enjoy clean comic pictures with the bright stories for boys and girls every Sunday. And all the family together can enjoy Arthur M. Evans' home travel articles, Mr. Kiser's humor and verse, Ralph Wilder's cartoons and other daily features outside the news columns.

The Chicago Record-Herald has every right to call itself the best all-around family newspaper in the West.

WILL GET MEDICINE
IF WOMEN ARE AROUND

Ed. Howe, the famous Kansas funny man and story teller, has an article in the December American Magazine in which he says:

"When a woman has charge of a sick man, she feels as important as the marshal of the day at a country Fourth of July celebration, and however amiable she may be at other times, she is very 'bossy' when she has medicine to give a man or lotions to put on him. If he wants a drink of water, she expresses the opinion that he is drinking too much, and remembers that her aunt Harriet's husband once drank a great deal when he was sick, and had convulsions. If the sick man becomes impatient, and says the medicine is doing no good, she reminds him curtly that 'time' is necessary; she has even been known to dip into the classics, and say that Rome was not built in a day. The air of wisdom with which she examines the doctor,

DANIEL BOONE'S TRAIL STILL FOUND IN SOUTH

Primitive Methods of Existence Still Prevail in Cumberland Country.

The December American Magazine contains an extraordinary article entitled "Burns Of The Mountains," which is the story of a southern mountaineer who through almost unprecedented courage has built a college which he hopes is to go a long way toward remaking his own people. An interesting extract from the article follows, showing how Daniel Boone's trail through the Cumberland Mountains still exists:

"You can go back into the Cumberland country and find the trail where Boone crossed, following the waters, and see that region pretty much as he found it and as he left it, a country with a history arrested, unwritten, waiting. The log cabin is the universal form of the home. You can find to-day the loom, the spinning-wheel, the lard-kettle, the candle-mold, and the squirrel-rifle, unchanged in a hundred years. The women there still wear sunbonnets, and they still ride behind, horseback, with their I-rds and masters; still stand waiting at table while their lords and masters eat. Strange Elizabethan phrases of speech still linger. Hot bread still prevails, three meals a day, and pork when they can get it. The men do not go West to pick up prairie-lands, but toil laboriously with the ax on steep mountainsides to open the land, plow it precariously with single shovel-plows, or till it laboriously with hoes—men, women, and children, with hoes. Farm machinery is unknown.

"You cannot believe, and surely cannot understand, these things without seeing them—cannot believe that this backward country is in America as you know it. But, having seen them, you understand why these side-tracked Highlanders, lost for more than a century, do not send their children to school. There are no schools, because there are no roads; no roads, because there are no taxes; no taxes, because there is no money; and, coming round again in a circle, no possible interchange of commodities, because there are no roads. There lies the wilderness of the old crossing-place of the Alleghenies as Boone saw it and left it."

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price 50 cents at James H. Williams.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A. Mitchell, a general merchant near Bagdad, Ky., writes us: "I think Foley Kidney Pills one of the greatest kidney medicines there is. My daughter was in terrible shape with kidney trouble and I got her to take it. She is completely cured now. I think it one of the greatest medicines made." All dealers.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE AS RECORDED IN KENTUCKY

Shows a Falling Off—Wilson's Majority Over Both Taft and Teddy, 1,302.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 23.—Woodrow Wilson carried Kentucky by a plurality of 104,072 over William H. Taft in the November election, according to the tabulation of the Secretary of State's office, and had a majority over Taft and Roosevelt combined of 1,302.

The total vote in the State was as follows: Wilson, 219,584; Taft, 115,512; Roosevelt, 102,766; Debs, 11,647; Prohibition, 3,233; Socialist Labor, 956.

The vote in Jefferson county was: Wilson, 24,100; Roosevelt, 23,516; Taft, 3,519; Debs, 1,190; Prohibition, 210; Socialist Labor, 161.

Wilson fell 24,598 below the total vote for Bryan four years ago, and the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt was 17,433 lower than Taft's in 1908.

In Jefferson county the Democratic vote fell off 2,056, and the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt was 155 less than Taft's in 1908.

Only the Socialists can take comfort in the size of the total vote, increasing from 4,060 in 1908 to 11,647 this year.

Congressman Swager Sherley leads the Wilson electors 1,279 in the Fifth district, and won by 1,680 votes over Henry I. Fox, Progressive candidate.

Judge C. C. Turner, Democratic candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Seventh district, defeated A. J. Kirk, the Republican candidate, 1,246. The result in that race was: Turner, 27,930; Kirk, 26,687; J. D. White, Progressive, 14,077.

Appellate Judge John D. Carroll, Democratic candidate for re-election in the Fifth district, had no opposition, and received 34,747 votes.

DEPUTY SHERIFF MEETS DEATH BY FOUL MEANS

Assassinated on Street—Negro Outlaws Are Blamed for Murder.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 24.—Deputy Sheriff George M. Hart, one of the best known men in Clark county, was assassinated on one of the principal corners of Winchester about 6 o'clock this evening. No clew to the identity of the assassin has been obtained, but it is thought the murder was committed by a member of a party of negroes for whom the Deputy Sheriff had been hunting during the afternoon. Deputy Hart was by himself, at the time of the shooting and when help reached him he had lapsed into unconsciousness and so could give no information as to his murderers. He died while on the way to a hospital.

Two shots were fired at the deputy, one of which went wild. The other struck him in the abdomen, inflicting a wound which proved fatal. The assassination took place at the corner of Broadway and Main streets, in the very heart of the city and at a place which is usually thronged by passersby. The first person to reach the side of the wounded deputy was Chief of Police Woodson McCord, who called Dr. Isaac H. Browne, but Mr. Hart died before it was possible to give him surgical attention.

The killing is believed to have been the outcome of a holdup and a shooting affair at the construction camp of George Bros., three miles from Winchester on the new Irvine extension of the L. & N., where Will Reddix, a negro, was set upon by five other negroes and shot. The robbers then ransacked his house. Deputy Hart was called into the case and had located the robbers and was preparing to arrest them when he was shot. It is thought that they had been identified and that some of them fired the fatal shot. Reddix's wound, which was in the leg, is not serious.

Mr. Hart was 54 years old and is survived by his wife and two children, Louis Hart, of Nashville, and Miss Mary Elkin Hart, of this city.

Mr. Bob Taylor has moved to the Lum Coleman farm near here.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Barnard was buried here November 16th.

GOV. WILSON GETS KANSAS BY PLURALITY OF 23,547

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 23.—Woodrow Wilson carried Kansas by a plurality of 23,547 over Roosevelt. Taft was 45,279 behind Roosevelt. The official figures given out by the Secretary of State to-day follow: Wilson, Democrat, 143,670; Roosevelt, Progressive, 120,123; Taft, Republican, 74,844; Debs, Socialist, 26,907.

Roosevelt carried thirty-one out of the 105 counties and Taft carried two. Debs carried Crawford county, the first time in the history of the State a Socialist has carried a Kansas county.

No Socialist Labor vote was cast in the State and the vote for Chafin, Prohibition candidate for President, was not tabulated by the counties.

Stop the Expense of Painting Your Roof Every Year by Using Standard Elastic Cement Paint is the Best Metal Paint we know of and we commend it to the good sense and thoughtful consideration of the thinking and consuming public, and we ask that you give it a trial.

This paint is now being sold in 31 States and has the endorsement of many of the largest users and distributors in the country. It is sold under a positive GUARANTEE.

A GUARANTEE UNQUALIFIED.

Where every part of an old or new metal surface (hot surfaces excepted) is exclusively covered with Standard Elastic Cement Paint, according to directions, and it fails to give satisfaction for FIVE YEARS, we will furnish FREE all the Paint required to repaint such surface.

TO PATCH A ROOF WITH STANDARD ELASTIC CEMENT PAINT, WHERE THE OPENINGS ARE TOO LARGE TO BE CLOSED BY THE USE OF THE PAINT:

Take a piece of heavy twill cotton, three or four inches larger than the openings, shrink and dry thoroughly, paint over the surface where it is to be applied, also one side of the cotton, apply and press down carefully and smoothly, then paint over the surface thoroughly, as balance of the roof is painted. This method will add years to the life of an old roof.

We make delivery prices to your nearest railroad station.

Write us for prices on what you may need in our line.
